

A NEW THURBER ITEM

A beautiful new edition of Many Moons, one of James Thurber's most delightful stories, has been brought out by The Printing Office of A.M. & R.W. Roe, St. Joseph, Michigan. The edition will be limited to 2,500 copies, 2,250 copies bound in blue cloth and 250 copies hand-bound in blue leather. The cloth-bound copies are priced at $12.50 and the leather-bound copies at $25.00.

Thurber is regarded by many as Ohio's greatest living author. His fairy stories and fables have received especially high praise.

The illustrations consist of twenty-one woodcuts in six and seven colors, drawn and engraved by Philip Reed, who has been honored many times in this country and abroad for his work as book designer and illustrator.

The publisher writes that the book, which consists of thirty-two pages, was printed, type only, sixteen pages at a time on each side of the sheet. The sheets were then cut into four-page forms and the illustrations printed separately, one color at a time on a small press. More than 650 hours of press time were required.
