

Paige Cuccaro will read from her newly released book, Hellsbane. Garnering 5 star reviews and reviewer's Top Pick, Hellsbane is described as a thrilling read with just enough fast-paced action and excitement to leave you hanging onto the edge of your seat. Cuccaro has a way of pulling you into a scene--I was smelling the brimstone, and feeling the black goo that at one time was a demon, say readers. Paige Cuccaro spends her days as a Navy wife and mother, writing her books here in central Ohio. Her road to publication was not without its ups and downs, but with several books out under her penname, Alison Paige, and the launch of her new urban fantasy 3 book series, Hellsbane, she is well on her way to achieving her dreams.

Susan Gee Hieno will read from her soon to be released book Passion and Pretense.

Reviewers have declared her four star rated book to be witty, funny, and sexy pure reading indulgence. Susan's career with writing for the theatre and her love of the English Regency time period led her to writing historical romance. In 2008 she won Romance Writers of America's Golden Heart Award for Best Regency Historical. Susan has three published novels and has contributed to at least one anthology. She lives in rural Ohio, a minister's wife, and a mother of two children.

Donna MacMeans will read from her recently released book Redeeming the Rogue and forthcoming book The Casanova Code. Donna is a mild-mannered certified public accountant with a small tax practice. But come April 16th, she transforms into an impassioned writer of sexy historical romance novels, paranormals and romantic suspense. Her manuscript, The Education of Mrs. Brimley, won the coveted Golden Heart medallion for Best Long Historical Manuscript presented by Romance Writers of America. Penguin Books purchased it and launched her career as a published author. She has also won multiple other awards including the Romantic Times Reviewers Choice Award for Historical Love & Laughter.
